

HOME HAPPENINGS

—All kinds of vegetables need rain. The past month has been unusually dry.

—Most of the village stores will close all day July 4th but will be open the Thursday evening before.

—This is sure the good old summer time.

—A week from today brings the glorious Fourth.

—There is a law against letting noxious weeds go to seed.

—Indications point to large crop of raspberries and strawberries.

—The residence of P. T. Jones on North Broad street is being painted.

—Strawberries have been selling this week at three quarts for a quarter.

—Hay harvest will begin next week. The crop will be rather light in this locality.

—The residence of Mrs. Barbara Obenauer on East Main street is being painted.

—Children's Day will be observed at the Christian church Sunday evening, June 29.

—Silvio Ruschito has installed a gas engine to operate a pump and washing machine.

—The Altimo Culture Co. is daily making large shipments of sweet peas to Pittsburgh.

—Members of Park View Rebekah lodge held an enjoyable social last Friday evening in Odd Fellows' hall.

—Mercury got up to 88 in the Dispatch office Wednesday afternoon which is hot enough, thank you.

—Quite a number from Canfield attended the Masonic outing in Idora park Tuesday afternoon and evening.

—Wheat is beginning to ripen. It is thought the long dry spell will have the effect of considerably reducing the yield.

—Please send the Dispatch any news items that may come to your notice. They are needed to help make the paper more interesting.

—Lightning struck a large elm tree near the residence of Mrs. Nettie Edwards, on West Main street, during the storm last Thursday night.

—A special communication of Argus Masonic Lodge will be held this (Friday) evening when there will be work in the M. M. degree.

—The macadam roads in the village were given a second oiling Tuesday and it is hoped there will be no more banding limestone dust for a couple of months at least.

—An ice-cream and strawberry festival will be held at Zion Reformed church, north of the village, Thursday evening, July 3, to which the public is cordially invited.

—A water snake caught Monday was placed in one of Lester Cox's show windows where it has laid several eggs and the chances are the snake family will shortly be increased.

—On account of other Fourth of July celebrations in this locality the committee in charge of the Canfield celebration decided to declare it off and have a big jubilee a little later in the year.

—Coy Toot killed a large hawk some weeks since and secured a number of eggs which were placed under a hen. They hatched out the other day but the young hawks lived only a few hours.

—Since the rains, corn, grass, vegetables of all kinds, have been growing so fast that it is expected that within a week or two everything will have caught up to the usual schedule for growth in the early summer.

—Some of these saucy and bold robins who make so free with one's cherry trees act as if they owned them scolding furiously if you get to picking the fruit and even using bird language that sounds like profanity.

—Mrs. M. A. Hine fell last Saturday afternoon while carrying a chair from the house to a porch, striking on her head and cutting a gash several inches long. Dr. C. H. Campbell found it necessary to use a number of stitches in closing the wound.

—The Masonic Male Quartet of Youngstown will give a concert in college chapel this (Thursday) evening under the auspices of the Men's Club. The object is not to make money but to give the people of Canfield and vicinity a high class entertainment.

—The men and teams for months engaged in hauling logs from the woods of J. S. Harding in Ellsworth township to Canfield for shipment to the Koons Co. in Cleveland on Tuesday completed the job and went to Boardman township where a large number of logs are to be hauled.

—The annual Mahoning County Teachers' Institute will be held in Canfield August 25 to 29. The instructors will be Dr. D. C. Murphy of Slippery Rock, Pa., Miss Christiana Mount of Hoboken, N. J., Prof. L. L. Weaver of Alliance and Prof. H. O. Ferguson of Ashtabula Harbor. Indications are that the attendance will be the largest in the history of the organization.

—It required four teams of horses to move a stick of ship timber from the Starr woods in Boardman township to the railroad station in Canfield whence it will be sent to Warren. The stick contained three thousand feet of lumber and was one of the largest ever seen here. During the past few weeks many pieces of ship timber have been shipped from here by the Helman company.

—On Monday evening Abraham Tobe, his wife and six small children arrived in Canfield in a rickety wagon drawn by a horse full of years and weak by reason of being hardly fed. But the condition of the family was even more pitiable than that of the horse. They were nearly starved from hunger and were without means to purchase eatables. When it became known that the family needed assistance several citizens promptly responded with money and a bountiful supper. Mrs. C. S. Dodd provided not only eatables but sleeping quarters for the night. Next morning the oldest boy, a lad of 10, was quite ill, the result of having eaten too heartily when his stomach was empty. After breakfast Tuesday morning the family resumed its journey. The story of the man was that he had been operating an automobile transfer line in New Haven, Conn., but had met with reverses and had set out with his family for Seattle, Wash., where he had friends, and was depending upon charity while striving to get there.

MAYOR GEE MAKES REQUEST

For several years there has been much complaint against the shooting of cannon, anvils and the like to usher in the Fourth of July at midnight and I have this year decided to request that there be no shooting in the village of Canfield until after 5 o'clock on the morning of the Fourth. This will give the sick and others a longer night of quiet. Under the law shooting may be entirely prohibited but I have no desire to do this and I trust the above request will be complied with.

W. J. Gee, Mayor.

Company Reunion.

The annual reunion of Co. F, 41st O. V. I., was held in the G. A. R. rooms at Warren, Ohio, June 21. A delightful social hour was spent in hearty greetings and reviving of memories of the days of sixty-one to sixty-five. The fact that death had not entered the ranks since the last reunion was gratefully remembered. Dinner was announced and all were glad to respond to the call and enjoy the bountiful repast provided by Commodore W. C. Winfield, Almon Webb and their wives. The election of officers was next in order, followed by general remarks. A pleasant feature of the day was the presence of Miss Hazen, daughter of the Regiment and niece of Maj. General Wm. B. Hazen, first colonel of 41st O. V. I. Time to adjourn having arrived goodbyes were said hoping to meet a year hence at Ellsworth.

A Musical Treat.

The concert to be given by the Canfield Singing Club Tuesday evening, July 1, in College Chapel promises to be one of unusual interest and merit. The cantatas "The Treck of the Heavens," and "Gallia" are works that are largely owed to their tunefulness and beauty. Local soloists will be heard in these scores. Mrs. Jay Buchwalter, soprano, of Warren will assist the club, singing a group of songs and also taking the solo work in Gallia. Mrs. Buchwalter has a most pleasing personality and is the possessor of a splendid voice. Mr. Ashley, tenor, of Warren will direct the club and sing a group of songs.

The Children's Chorus will be heard at this concert and add to the pleasure of the evening. Arrange your plans so as to attend this concert on Tuesday evening next at 8 p. m.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY IS NEXT

Manufacturers Have But Lately Used Waste Products and Housewife Will Adopt Plan Soon.

An important factor in the industrial prosperity of the world is the utilization of waste products. It has not been long, as time goes, since packers learned that they would use all of the pig except his squeal. Sawdust, which was formerly thrown away, is now the chief fuel of many lumber mills, or from it great quantities of wood alcohol are manufactured. The industrial world has learned to take its profits from what yesterday were waste products.

There is a fortune left every morning in American coffee cups. It is estimated that the average person uses at least a fifth more sugar than the liquid into which it is put. Smokers habitually throw away a third of every cigar or cigarette lighted. Gas ranges are kept burning because they "will be needed in a few minutes." Electric meters hum merrily because people feel that it is hardly worth while to put out the lights when they will be needed again in an hour or so. Food which might readily be prepared for another meal is thrown away. Possibly a fourth of the cost of upkeep of every American home is unnecessary cost, which could be avoided by frugality and the employment of common sense.

The elimination of waste has not become a general object in housekeeping. We have learned the value of economy in manufacturing, but we have not applied economic principles to the administration of the household.

Americans and the Rich.

The United States is perhaps the only country in the world in which money, in itself, carries no public honor or glory, and in which even the most lavish heaving of coins to the rabble goes unrewarded. An English Carnegie would have had a seat in the house of lords twenty years ago; a French Rockefeller would have sported the grand cordon of the Legion of Honor before he ever sported a toupee; a German Morgan could never have escaped the Red Eagle and privy council. But in the United States a great fortune is the most effective of all bars to public dignity and preferment, and even to private respect. Our Ryans and Harrimans are not idols, but targets; the one sure way to make a stir in politics is to attack them successfully.—H. L. Mencken in Smart Set.

German Postal Automobiles.

A system has been established in Germany by which the postal automobiles are made use of to bring relief from the larger cities to smaller ones threatened by fire. Only the larger cities of Germany are supplied with fire-fighting apparatus, and in the event of fire or a serious conflagration happening in one of them located at a distance of more than ten miles from an established fire department, the apparatus will be secured to a postal automobile and drawn to the scene of the fire. The system was recently availed of and valuable assistance rendered to the village of Walsdorf, which would have been wiped out but for the help thus secured.

An Ostracized Flag.

The minister of the Boston South Congregational church said the other day:

"Instead of the cross I should like to see the white flag on the topmost spire of every Christian church. On the flag of faith, there floating aloft, I would put the Christian star of Bethlehem."

It would be legal on a church spire, but under the new Massachusetts law it could not be carried in a parade.

It is always a treat to hear local soloists. Canfield soloists will be heard in special work at the concert next Tuesday evening at College Chapel. Admission 25c.—Adv.

Excited remarks of opera managers to the contrary notwithstanding, the proof of an opera singer is in his or her voice.

If it were really true that man wants but little here below we should all get what we want.
